To whom it may concern,

In the 2022-2023 academic year, I was lucky enough to have Andrés Navarro Pedregal as a student in the “Theory of Communication” course I teach in various degrees at Carlos III University of Madrid. Andrés was a brilliant student, demonstrating excellent capabilities in a course that not only addresses entirely new concepts (related to communication systems) but also assumes that students have extensive knowledge in the fields of signal processing and statistics.

For the reasons mentioned above, it is my pleasure to highly recommend Andrés’ application for the ”Technical Studentship - IT, Mathematics & Robotics 2024/3” program.

Sincerely,

Manuel A. Vázquez
