To Whom It May Concern

We are writing to recommend Andres Navarro Pedregal for his exceptional performance during the course titled Professional Communication and Counselling Skills in Education at the University of Rijeka, Faculty of Teacher Education, in academic year 2023/24.

Throughout the course, his ability to grasp theoretical concepts with comprehensive understanding and analytical skill, combined with his responsiveness to teachers' feedback, resulted in a deep mastery of the subject matter. Despite the course content not being directly related to his primary field of engineering, his assignments were exemplary, and he served as a role model for his peers.

As Andres' teachers for this course, we had the privilege of witnessing his outstanding abilities, task performance, valuable contributions to class discussions, positive attitude, open and flexible mind, respectful and effective communication with professors and students, and timely completion of all assignments.
